

Administering Oxygen
Easy, on the Shooting
What Whales Don't Know
Why So Few Great Men?

Our good old Wall Street paused in its operations yesterday, unhappy brokers only selling one million or so hundred thousand shares of stock in the whole day. Not enough commission to go around or bolster the price of exchange seats.

Perhaps tomorrow will be more rosy on both sides of the ocean. Perhaps not. But, you will see prosperity come back far faster than ever. Just at present we are paying for the war. Many of us did not realize that it would have to be done, some day.

However, industry, in order to employ men, must produce something. If there is nobody to buy what is produced, who is going to meet the payrolls?

In England, they have the duty to take care of their 2,500,000 unemployed, believing it to be cheaper than the cost of revolution.

One shooting, of an Austrian archduke, started the big war, one match can blow up a big powder factory.

A huge whale plows the northern seas, swallowing millions of tiny marine creatures on which he lives, knowing nothing of his past. Little does he dream that his ancestor was a little creature, the "tree shrew," that you could carry in your vest pocket.

Vice-President Curtis will not run with President Hoover in 1932, preferring to run for the Senate. Whom would you recommend as a running mate for President Hoover, what name would add strength to the ticket?

National Democrats suggest holding their 1932 convention on the Pacific coast, in California "Hoover's State." They call it a "brave gesture." More than that, it would be an educational expedition.

KEY TRIAL UNLATCHED BY WICKERHAM

FAMOUS JUSTICE SHOCKED BY PROCEEDINGS

Reforms in Court Rules and Picking of Judges Is Favored

Washington, July 15 (AP)—The Wickerham commission today denounced, as "shocking to one's sense of justice," the laws under which the famous Mooney-Billings case was conducted.

In a formal report to President Hoover on methods of criminal procedure, the commission edged at the door of "incompetent, weak or prejudiced judges" in the Mooney-Billings case as one in which millions for a new trial "were held inadequate to prevent injustice."

It made no direct recommendations, however, that the case be re-opened.

WOULD BAR POLITICS

In its report, signed by 10 of the 11 members, the commission judged that blame should be laid at the door of "incompetent, weak or prejudiced judges" in the Mooney-Billings case as one in which millions for a new trial "were held inadequate to prevent injustice."

It made no direct recommendations, however, that the case be re-opened.

RE-TRIAL IS CITED

In its discussion of the "murder sentences given Thomas J. J. Mooney and Walter J. Billings for the San Francisco bombing, the commission cited the refusal of the California Supreme Court to grant a new trial despite the discovery of new "evidence" charging perjury on the part of a material witness for the defense.

It cited also the refusal of the trial court of a further application based upon "the ground that the prosecution had failed to establish the truth of the statements made by the witness."

"Condemning this 'state of law' the commission urged universal adoption of the provisions of the American Law Institute, which would provide for the granting of a new trial with the discovery of evidence which might have been obtained in the original trial, if it were proved that the prosecuting attorney had been guilty of misconduct."

'DISCREPANCY' IN RAZOR IDEAL

Representatives of the Gillette Safety Razor Co. described a $50,000,000 "discrepancy" in the company's records, which they said was a "troubling" discovery in the Superior Court in the $25,000,000 suit of stockholders against the company, filed in 1935.

"It did not look like the same company," Johnson declared in answer to a question on comparison of the two statements. "The December statement, he said, listed accounts receivable as $17,000,000 while the statement given them as only $500,000."

Under cross-examination, however, the witness admitted that deferred charges listed for December, 1935, and the audit of June, 1936, were the same. "It is the fact that the December statement included sales of subsidiary companies owned by Gillette, while the June audit did not."

However, governments, especially army and navy men, learn slowly. They are like the English king, who after the muskets, with powder and ball came, said England must always rely on her bows and arrows for defense. Powder and muskets would never amount to much.

FORGER WANTED IN MAIN CITIES BREAKS JAIL

Bank Swindler Saws His Way to Freedom With His Pal at Worcester

Worcester, July 15—William Miller, 35, of Miami, one of the sharpest confidence men and bank swindlers in the country, and George Mello, 31, of Dedham, were hunted today in New York State following their escape from Worcester County Jail.

Miller, self-described "pal" of Hollywood movie stars, was serving an 18-month term for forgery in connection with a check passed on a Fitchburg bank.

According to police and jail officials, he was wanted in a score of other more than 100 charges.

Officials at the jail said Miller and Mello both of whom were dressed in civilian clothes, were seen in an open corridor on the second floor of the jail. Mello had been transferred there from the State Farm at New Bedford in March.

It was found the pair had sawed the bars in a window 60 feet from ground and had then made a 30-foot strip of webbing which had been procured. They dropped the remaining chain and then made their way over the outer wall with a hastily constructed ladder. The 6-foot ladder with a 7-foot extension was found resting against the outer wall.

Miller was arrested in Fitchburg in January, when he was recognized by a clerk as he attempted to move a check in the same bank he had successfully victimized a year before. He was arrested at gun point and sentenced to 18 months on a forgery charge.

Police here say he is sought in Boston, Springfield, Concord, N. H., New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Hollywood, and many other cities through out the country.

Big Force Battles Western Forest Fire

Spokane, Wash., July 15 (AP)—Cloudy weather and fast work by an army of fighters brought Idaho's worst forest fire under control today, though the fire was still burning in Montana and Wyoming.

Trenching of the 12,000 acre burn lock Creek State in the Clearwater forest of North Idaho was to be completed today by more than 100 workers.

Mother and Girl, 14, Escape Stove Blast

Chester, July 15 (AP)—Mrs. Rose Lessor and her 14-year-old daughter, Mary, narrowly escaped injury today when an oil stove exploded in the kitchen where they were sitting.

The explosion occurred at 10:30 a. m. when the stove was thrown all over the room and the mother and daughter were thrown to the floor.

The house was almost destroyed, with most of the contents.

5 WOMEN NAMED BY CURLEY

Five women were today appointed temporary clerks in the public welfare department of the City by Mayor Curley.

They are Sarah Wolf, 30, of 114 Woodman st., Forest Hills, Elyria P. Costello, 35, of 15 Ares st., Dorchester, Margaret B. Maheron, 30, 101 Sturges st., Dorchester, and Miss F. Curran of 12 Lindsey st., Dorchester.

Treasury Official Ends Life in Garage

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Robert G. Hand, commissioner of the Treasury Department, was found today in his closed garage early today.

EVERYBODY WILL SEE HER

With him at the bedside when the end came was his father, Charles A. Valle, his brother, William, his sister, Mary, and his mother, Mrs. William J. Valle.

Shades at the home were drawn. Police stationed at the head of Munroe st. crowded the street during Rudy's presence here to die.

The motorists were mostly from out of town. The home folk left the favorite son alone in his sorrow.

WEDDY LOOKS 'GHASTLY'

News of the death of Mrs. Valle spread rapidly and messages of condolence poured in from friends of the family, mostly from Rudy's relatives.

Summoned by their father, Rudy and William flew from Boston, N. Y., to Portland Monday afternoon.

His wife, Mrs. Valle, was in the public school of St. Johnsbury, Vt., where, as Katherine Lynch, she was a teacher.

ENGLISH BOYS TURN TO CRIME

London, July 15 (AP)—Great Britain's crime problem, Lord Justice MacCardie said at the opening of the Birmingham assizes today, is more serious than at any other time during the past 60 years.

"Modern criminals," he said, "are more ingenious and astute."

"Perhaps the greatest feature of recent years is that the number of boys under 14 convicted of indictable offenses was much greater in 1929 than in 1907."

DIAMOND STILL LUCKY AND FREE

Troy, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—Jack "Lega" Diamond, who has "beaten the rap" many times on charges of about everything from petty crime to murder, stood freed once again today, victor over the entire legal forces of New York in a determined effort to end his gangster career with a prison term.

Arrested many times, and twice sent down by enemy gunfire, the former bodyguard of the slain gambler Arnold Rothstein again showed his luck had not deserted him.

After a two day trial the judge, after hearing the evidence, acquitted Diamond on all charges. He was released on his own recognizance.

Parker said he was beaten and tortured by five by Diamond and his gang April 15. He said this treatment was accorded him because he did not reveal the location of a mountain elder still.

The jury accepted Diamond's claim that he was in Albany at the time of the assault.

A court room full of spectators warmed about Diamond as the verdict was announced. He accepted their congratulations quietly. He now faces other indictments growing out of the Parker episode.

STATE POLICE TEL PERRY TO MOVE ON

Immigration Agents Hunt for "Red Flame"; a Peace Meeting Arranged

Central Falls, R. I., July 15—Manuel Perry, a National Textile Workers' Union organizer, was ordered to leave the city today, as police and immigration officials conducted a search for Ann Berlak, "Red Flame" of the strikers here and in Pawtucket.

Perry was picked up by police and taken before Lieut. George Robinson of the state troopers, who issued the command.

Immigration officials searching for Ann Berlak, who also had been ordered to leave the city previously, are armed with a warrant.

The warrant, which was issued by Judge James P. Reid, with participation to overthrow the government by force or fraud, was issued from Washington on application of Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast, immigration commissioner of the New England district.

It was admitted that the warrant was a prelude to deportation proceedings. Although the girl asserts she was born in Pennsylvania officials could find no record of her birth there.

SETTLEMENT NEAR

It was rumored that the girl had gone to Putnam, Ct., to aid in organizing a mill strike, but this was denied by Dr. James P. Reid, of the National Textile Workers Union. He claimed the girl was in this town and would make a speech to strikers within 48 hours.

Meanwhile, immigration officials speak seemed to be moving toward settlement.

With Ann Berlak practically out of the picture as far as the strikers are concerned, Anna Wainstock, conciliation expert of the Department of Labor, last night agreed to withdraw from peace negotiations.

MEETING ARRANGED

A meeting in conference place resulted today in failure of the citizens' committee and Mrs. Wainstock meeting with a committee of the strikers.

Last night a delegation of girl strikers tried to negotiate with the citizens' committee, but their plans had been made for a meeting today and no action could be taken last night.

The citizens' committee believes the impression may have gone out that the citizens' committee did not wish to meet any committee of the strikers. Efforts to straighten out the tangle were being made late today.

The strikers' committee had agreed to meet with officials on condition that no third party was present.

Two more departments of the Royal Weaving Mills in Pawtucket resumed today, making a total of four now operating.

A faint flurry of selling at the opening of the futures trading session let July wheat down to 30 1/2 cents a bushel, equal the record low price of July 26, 1926. With the post war dollar worth about 75 cents in present value, today's wheat price was figured at about 35 cents in pre war value.

Pessimism over the European economic situation and a downward trend in the securities markets were the weakening factors.

CATCH SUSPECT AT GUNPOINT

Rochester, N. Y., July 15—An El Paso, Tex., youth was arrested at gunpoint in a drugstore early today after, it is charged, he had broken into the store and rifled the cash register of $125.

Police are also investigating two other burglaries in stores during the night in the possibility that Albert Rosal, 15, the prisoner, may have committed them.

City Marshal James C. Stedman was called to the drugstore of H. B. Smith after two girls reported they saw two men try a rear window of the store.

Police with drawn guns found Rosal crouching under a sink in the rear of the store, they said. After he had been taken to police headquarters, police said, they found an automatic pistol on the floor which they believed had been dropped by Rosal. His companion was not captured.

Rosal was discovered at a garage and a grocery store had been entered and robbed.

WHEAT DOWN TO HALF DOLLAR

Chicago, July 15 (AP)—Wheat prices settled down today to the bottom reached only once before in the history of the Chicago Board of Trade.

A faint flurry of selling at the opening of the futures trading session let July wheat down to 30 1/2 cents a bushel, equal the record low price of July 26, 1926. With the post war dollar worth about 75 cents in present value, today's wheat price was figured at about 35 cents in pre war value.

Blind Savant Says Universe to Go on Without End

Williams Bay, Wis., July 15 (AP)—The blind savant of Lake Geneva was back today at his endless task of digesting the affairs of the universe.

Just another day it seemed for Dr. Edwin Bryant Frost, since 1903 director of the University of Chicago's Yerkes Observatory—but a day which followed one of the happiest of his life. For 300 scientists and friends paid him homage on his 65th birthday.

"I have learned much in my life," he said, "and everything has confirmed my belief in a Spirit behind the universe."

"The universe is perpetual—it has no beginning, and it will have no end."

LETTER CLUE TO DEAD WOMAN

Glastonbury, July 15—While Medical Examiner Ira B. Hall was performing an autopsy on the body of a woman found floating in the waters of Lake Champlain, police were today pressing their efforts to find a person named in a letter found in the victim's clothing in an attempt to identify the body.

Medical Examiner Hall maintained that the woman may have waded into the water, had been pushed or fell of a rock.

A letter and photograph found in her clothing give police hope they may be able to identify her. The letter was addressed to "Amanda" and signed "Edna." The photo was of a man about 40.

The woman's body was found by the crew of a tugboat, the slender leg by Curt Lipicky and Frank Corbett, employees at an inn here. The woman was dressed in 65 years old, with heavy grey hair and weighing about 150 pounds. She had been in the water about 14 hours, according to the medical examiner.

BOAT IS SINKING WITH 14 ABOARD

Buffalo, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—The coast guard station here received word today that the T. E. L. 105, a motor barge with a crew of 14, was sinking in Lake Ontario, off Thirty Mile Point, five miles east of Olean.

Cutters were sent to the scene. The barge is out of New York for Detroit, with a cargo of iron and steel. It is commanded by Capt. Grosdahl, and is 245 feet long with a 36-foot beam.

The message said the barge struck a reef during a dense fog and had been held fast during the night.

BRITAIN HITS FRANCE

French importing the economic stability of Europe.

Germany Pays Interest

Under Young Plan

Basel, Switzerland, July 15 (AP)—Germany's interest charges on the Dawes and Young loans were paid into the Bank of International Settlements today.

The unconditional annuity due today, had not been received up to a late hour, but the payment was actually due until 4 p. m.

The funds, under an agreement reached subsequent to the Hoover moratorium, will be converted immediately into German railway bonds and loaned back to the Reich.

A Budapest dispatch said France had offered a loan of a billion francs to the Hungarian government today.

The first condition was that France be given control over Hungarian finances.

The second was that Hungary improve her relations with members of the Little Entente.

The offer was transmitted to Premier Bethlen through the French minister at Budapest.

The Hungarian government, which yesterday closed all banks for three days as a precautionary measure in connection with the German crisis, today decided to accept the proposed 22,000,000 franc loan for Hungary must be obtained as quickly as possible.

If it is not, said a semi-official statement, further temporary measures will be necessary.

Henderson and French

Leaders in Conference

Paris, July 15 (AP)—Arthur Henderson, Great Britain's foreign secretary, conferred today with Premier Laval and Aristide Briand, foreign minister of France, at a luncheon attended also by several members of the French cabinet and of the British embassy staff.

It was the first of a series of international conversations which will include Henry F. Stimson, the American secretary of state, who arrived today from Rome. His mission, it is understood, is concerned primarily with disarmament.

It was assumed in high circles that the conference gave a particular consideration to the situation in Germany. The impression is growing that they are anxious to reach a quick decision on the various projects for providing financial relief to Germany.

France, it is understood, is still willing to participate in such relief provided Germany undertakes to meet the conditions it has outlined as the price of assistance.

Germany to Meet

Payrolls Tomorrow

Berlin, July 15 (AP)—Germany will meet the mid-month payroll tomorrow, it was learned on excellent authority today, opening with the suspended Germanization National Bank to pay out salaries.

Civil service salaries and pay of individual firms will be paid, it was learned. Unemployment ment, doles and sick benefits also "a met."

A considerable number of private firms have payroll accounts with the Darmstadt Bank, which suspended payments at the beginning of the week. This aid will the other banks temporarily closed by government decree yesterday be to be opened tomorrow, it was said.

The government today definitely shelved a proposal to put the "restraining" back into circulation.

HINDENBURG IS AIDING

This is the unit of currency, based on agriculture and industry instead of gold, which was issued after the mark was stabilized in 1923.

It is domestic tender only, and it is understood that the project was discarded because of opposition not only at home but also by bankers abroad.

At the same time the Reichsbank raised its discount rate from 7 per cent to 10 per cent.

President von Hindenburg arrived in the city today from his country home at Neudeck to assist in coping with the financial crisis.

So far as the situation here is concerned, outside of the financial problem, the government is not worried.

NO DISORDER FEARED

The danger of a Communist assault is considered non-existent, although government agents are everywhere to report even the slightest sign of trouble, the suggestion of a general strike inspired by the Communists is laughed at. Small demonstrations by jobless persons were dispersed today without difficulty.

Two possibilities of transcending importance for the pacification of Europe loomed on the political horizon today.

One was that on a signal from Arthur Henderson, British foreign secretary, who is in Paris, Chancellor Brüning might depart hurriedly for Paris for a heart-to-heart talk with Premier Laval and possibly arrange for a four-cornered conference between Secretary Stimson, Laval, Henderson and Brüning.

The other was that Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain and Chancellor Brüning might start from Berlin immediately after their pending conference in an attempt to bring about a Franco-German understanding which was considered indispensable for restoring peace in Europe.

Appointment of a "money czar" with extraordinary powers over the buying and selling of foreign currencies, was another matter likely to be considered by the cabinet.

Crisis Averted by Hoover

Plan, Capital Believes

Washington, July 15 (AP)—The Hoover moratorium plan was believed by American officials to have averted a possible disastrous international crisis by postponing German war debt payments due today at the Bank of International Settlements.

An administration official continued to study developments in the German financial situation,

Assistant Secretary Castle of the State Department said had not the Hoover plan been adopted a serious default by Germany might have resulted. Under the Young plan, he said, Germany would have to pay into the world bank for settlements today at Basel, Switzerland, about $20,000,000.

Stimson in Paris;

Plans to "Just Listen"

Paris, July 15 (AP)—Henry F. Stimson, American secretary of state, arrived today from Italy for a series of conferences with French government officials. He was met at the railroad station by French officials, American Ambassador Walter Edge and members of the embassy staff. He went to the embassy.

"I've come here to listen, not to talk," he said when correspondents asked him for a statement.

Three Nations to Confer

on the Young Plan

London, July 15 (AP)—France,

Italy and Japan have accepted Great Britain's invitation to a conference of "Young plan experts" which will meet on Friday to consider that plan in relation to application of the Hoover moratorium.

These are the principal signatories to the Young plan, and Stimson is expected to accept within a day or so. The United States government already has announced that Hugh R. Gibson, American ambassador to Belgium, will attend as an observer.

Paris Bourse Closes

Weak as Prices Drop

Paris, July 15 (AP)—The Bourse closed weak today after a four-day layoff over the national holiday.

International securities were most seriously affected, with losses running from 10 to 15 per cent. French shares also were down.

Closing of the Central European Bourses, including that at Berlin resulted in important liquidation here with very little buying. Otherwise business was slow.

Bern, Switzerland, July 15 (AP)—The Bourses at Geneva and Basel did not quote the German marks today and on the Zurich exchange quotations were only nominal and not binding.

There the mark was 100 bid and 120 asked, the largest difference ever noticed in Switzerland even in war time.

Get a good glove of that stuff, buy a glove, say for it, keep it, and later it will keep you. Now the second glove. Second glove. Second glove. Second glove.

No wonder Women are switching to Camels

Smoke a FRESH cigarette

The steady increase in the number of women who are switching to Camels is a tribute to the mildness of this cigarette.

A woman's throat is more delicate than a man's — more easily irritated by the unkindly hot smoke of parched, dry-as-dust tobaccos.

Camels are milder, first, because they are a throat-friendly blend of fine Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos that require no parching.

Camels are milder, second, because all peppery dust is removed by a special vacuum-cleaning process before Camels are air-sealed in the Humidor Pack of germ-safe moisture-proof Cellophane.

Camels are milder, third, because this wrapping of moisture-proof Cellophane prevents the cigarettes from drying out. The natural moisture of the tobaccos is held intact.

When you inhale the cool fragrant smoke of a Camel you enjoy all the flavor, all the aroma of blended fine tobaccos kept in prime smoking condition — without the sting and bite-and-burn of stale, dried-out cigarettes.

Just try Camels, join the throng and switch to them for one day, then quit them — if you can.

Don't remove the moisture-proof Cellophane from your package of Camels after you open it. The Humidor Pack is protection against perfume and powder odors, dust and germs. It delivers fresh Camels and keeps them right until the last one has been smoked.

RAILROADS NOT TO RAISE THE RATE ON COAL

Washington, July 15 (AP)—The petition of railroads for a 15 per cent rate increase was amended today at the beginning of hearings before the Interstate Commerce Commission to exclude coal and coke from its provisions.

The original petition would have excluded "certain other commodities" in addition, but upon being asked to name those commodities the railroads informed the commission they intended making no other exceptions.

Appearing as the first witness for the railroads, Dr. Julius H. Farnelle told the commission American railroads, despite the most rigorous economy have been unable to make a fair living during the last ten years.

Farnelle said the future ability of the roads to serve the public adequately "is seriously threatened unless additional income is forthcoming" and presented statistics to show their serious situation.

He said the railroads spent nearly $7,000,000,000 to increase their efficiency of operation between 1923 and 1930. Reductions in operating expenses due to the belt-tightening could not, he said, keep up with reductions in revenue caused by a sharp drop in traffic.

During the 10 years 1921 to 1930, he asserted, earnings were $2,374,677,000 below the five and three quarters per cent fixed by the commission as a fair return on railroad property.

DUCE'S REPLY IS TERMED 'MILD'

Vatican City, July 15 (AP)—Officials at the Vatican appear almost relieved that the Fascist party manifesto issued last night was not more sharply worded.

Church men had been braced for a severe shock, but they consider Premier Mussolini's firm stand quite natural, particularly as he declared himself through the party and not officially as premier.

It was noticed that the manifesto, while it refers to Italian youth, does not mention the adult organization of Catholic action, which the Fascist party recently placed under a ban. This was interpreted as an indication that nothing drastic is planned.

The newspaper On Servatore Romano, which is edited in the Vatican City, asserted in an editorial this afternoon that the Fascist declarations implicitly admit the truth of the major portions of the recent Papal encyclical.

"These declarations," it says, "are limited to what might be called merely a marginal note, attesting the true and substantial contents of the encyclical—contents which the declarations do not touch."

CHARGES MAYOR BOUGHT OFFICE

Seattle, July 15 (AP)—Charges that a "slush fund" was raised among police officers to assure his election by the City Council his mayor-elect today about Robert M. Harlin, labor leader.

The "slush fund" charges assumed the majority late yesterday in a council vote to oust Harlin, who was recalled by an election. The Council named Harlin by a 5 to 3 vote after reinstating J. D. Ross as head of the municipal light system. It was the removal of Ross by Edwards that led to the latter's recall. In a heated meeting preceding the naming of Harlin the "slush fund" charges were brought by Councilman Ralph Nichols.

"I have been informed," Nichols declared, "that at a meeting in police headquarters two weeks ago $15,000 was pledged to influence the mayoralty election and that Mr. Harlin was to be the beneficiary."

Subsequently, a policeman told me that a levy was being made in the police department for Harlin's election and that a policeman friend of his who refused to contribute was promptly transferred."

Harlin, who prior to his election as mayor was president of the Council, declared the charges to be "an infamous lie."

MAN FINED FOR MISUSING FLAG

A fine of $10 for drunkenness today was imposed upon Peter Petrovich, 40, of Broadway, who was arrested last night after neighbors had complained that he was intoxicated and using the American flag in a disrespectful manner.

Patrolman William Gould, summoned to C st. and Broadway, said he found Petrovich drunk and desecrating the flag. In South Boston court Judge William Day said a more severe sentence was withheld because Petrovich was intoxicated.

KING AND QUEEN HOSTS AT BALL

London, July 15 (AP)—For the first time since 1924, the king and queen are to give a ball at Buckingham Palace.

The ball will be held tomorrow night and will be in the nature of a private dance. Several hundred guests have been invited, including many friends of the younger members of the royal family.

By decision of the queen, the ball will be a plain dress affair. Male guests will wear ordinary evening dress with knee breeches, and women ordinary dance costume.

GIGANTIC SEA SERPENT TURNS TURTLE

Sea serpent connoisseurs smiled smugly today when word came via the Fish Pier in South Boston that a sea serpent had been sighted by Boston net pullers off Georges Bank on Monday.

Having had the actual sea serpent appear off the bank earlier this year, the sea serpent seers were vindicated when a correction came through from the fishermen declaring that the vision had proved to be an enormous turtle.

Members of the crew of the steam trawler Pabla, Capt. Robert Wharton, sighted the monster while hauling trawls. "Just above the surface of the water, it looked like Haddock Sullivan floating, at first," said one of the fishermen.

Another member of the crew said he thought it was an overturned dog. Then a prodigious head reared up above the roll of water, and the monster started for the fishermen. Just before reaching the huge net, however, it dived, and the fishermen saw that it was a huge turtle. They estimated it to be more than 10 feet long and about eight feet across the shell.

PHILADELPHIA IS HIT BY STORM

Philadelphia, July 15 (AP)—The worst electrical storm in years, accompanied by a 37-mile-an-hour gale, spent its fury over Philadelphia and vicinity early today after causing at least one death and property damage.

A succession of storms swept back and forth across this city from twilight last night until early today with terrific thunder claps, lightning flashes and downpours of rain that inundated whole areas under several feet of water.

In many localities autos were tossed away and dwellings flooded to within a few feet of the ceilings of their first floors.

DEMOCRATS IN CURLEY MIXUP

Fall River, July 15—Fall River Democrats are wavering in their decision to invite Mayor James M. Curley of Boston to the annual clambake of the Fall River Democratic city committee because of the invitation already extended to Gov. Joseph B. Ely, and the possibility that the two may be rivals in the next gubernatorial race. It was revealed today.

The indecision will be settled by an open motion to be offered at the meeting of the committee in charge of the affair next month. The annual festival to be held Sept. 6 at Island Park will have as guests of honor, besides Gov. Ely, Senator David I. Walsh, National Committeewoman Nellie K. Sullivan, Senator Edmund P. Sullivan, Mayor Felix A. Toupin of Concord, and former Senator Peter Goelet of Rhode Island.

HATPINS BACK? AW, WHY NOT USE A TACK?

By A MERE MAN

Those little hats for women this fall may, as New York critics predict, bring back the hatpin, but Boston milliners are wary, afraid they might get stuck.

THE HATPIN
WITH A BOBBED
HAIR ANCHORAGE

The new hats have shallow crowns and tiny brims, the kind cranked, used to wear back in '32. The problem is how to keep them on the head, a task never one eye and one ear in the best picture-finish fashion.

French milliners are favoring a small band of ribbon or elastic tied across the side of the head opposite that on which the chapeau is cocked in half-moon fashion, if you know what I mean.

WHAT OF BOBS? Style fashions from New York, O. S. indicate that milliners now believe the hatpin will experience a new vogue despite bobbed hair which gives it no anchorage. They argue that women will then permit their hair to grow or at least curl.

My suspicion is that several indications go to indicate that the hatpin is given the same consideration and is not prepared yet to stick up on hatpins.

He argues that women will not abandon their bobbed hair and cannot be expected to go in for switches in a big way, having nothing to conceal them with.

For the time being it appears that he will string along with the French milliners and place his faith in ribbon and elastic, with the possible variation of a chin strap.

WHY NOT ON DRESSERS? He argues, in fact, perhaps, that the woman no longer needs that hairpin for protection. In my own case, if there is to be a new vogue for hatpins, I would prefer to see them plunged through the new fall derbies, although this would be a handicap for those early bobblins such as George Alroy's, Grimm and Mitty Hamilton, who have no hair at all, at all.

In their case, however, the pin could be used as a horizontal bar for exercising such ideas as may, now and again and without warning, develop under the derby.

But where was I? Oh, yes, for the little chapeaux, to keep them on, I have my own suggestion. A carpet tack! I mean it, I really do, my dear.

Not, but, fly under my hat, and I'll fly home to mother.

And I'll fly home to mother.

SALEM PHONE BRIDE HELD IN $4700 THEFT

Salem, July 15.—Mrs. Elma J. Jackson, 35, bride of three months of Lafayette St., in district court today was held in $1000 for the arrest and jury charged with the arrest of $4735.50 from the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Mrs. Jackson, who was arrested Saturday, was held in $1000 for the arrest of $4735.50 from the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

According to Atty. Edward A. Coffey, defense counsel, the money was taken over a period of four years from the funds of the telephone company, which was the bride's cause.

Last Christmas she was charged with the theft of $1000 from the company, and she was held in $1000 for the arrest of $4735.50 from the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

According to Atty. Coffey, the bride's husband, Henry W. Jackson, was arrested for the theft of $1000 from the company, and she was held in $1000 for the arrest of $4735.50 from the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co.

The bride's company made a complaint however, and she was arrested by State Officer William T. Murray.

'MARIPOSA' READY TO TAKE THE WATER

The S. S. "Mariposa," a new ship of the Matson lines, which is being built by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., at its Quincy plant, is to be launched Saturday, at 1230. Mrs. Wallace M. Alexander, whose husband is vice-president of the Matson Line, will act as sponsor for the new ship. Water from the harbor at Sydney, Australia, Antipodean terminus for the big liner, will be used in the christening ceremony. The "Monterey," sister ship of the "Mariposa," is expected to leave the ways in October.

CAPPER BOOSTS BILLIONS LOAN

By ARTHUR CAPPER
Republican United States Senator from Kansas

Washington, July 15 (U.S.)—I agree entirely with Mr. Hearst that the United States should adopt any measure which may be necessary to avoid a debt system in this country. If the depression continues the Hearst proposal of a $500,000,000 property loan tends to raise funds for carrying on needed public improvements will be very seriously considered by the country and by Congress.

So far as the expenditure of such a sum is concerned, it will only advance the country in various directions where public improvements are desirable. They will not be like a debt, a net loss, but a productive and constructive program of national development. Labor would be employed, and living standards would be maintained during a period of slack private employment.

My view of Mr. Hearst's proposal is that it is statesmanlike and constructive, and that whether adopted immediately for the present emergency or as a provision for future severe business recession, if we had such a policy set up and ready two years ago the depression would today be a thing of the past.

Too Many Back Seat Drivers

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Is Germany crying with a loud of bread under its arm?

We haven't forgotten that near business in 1923 because we still have the kitchen papered with affidavits of a street lawyer.

We also have some 1923 certificates entitling us to brownie, white and plunger. Three words that later became the foundation of the cross-word puzzle industry. The European financial center is now a bedside with the world's greatest dollar doctors trying to pull the patient through the pay window.

Andy Mellon, Laval and MacDonald are doing some expensive bidding now that Germany has grabbed Turkey's title as the sick man of Europe.

One touch of deferred payments seems to make the whole world kin. What Germany is really suffering from is an overdose of five year plans every two hours.

The whole world climbed on its back and then wondered why it got round shouldered.

U. S. MODEL OF SOVIET LEADERS

New York, July 15 (AP)—Charles R. Stuart, mining engineer drafted to direct Russia's extensive coal survey, said in an interview today that the Soviet Government is striving to imitate not only American industrial methods, but American standards of living.

He declared that the most important step taken by the Soviet Government in recent months was the establishment of a competitive basis between the State-owned industries of Russia.

This means that rather than being subsidized by the Government treasury, the Soviet industries must make their own way in the same way that private corporations do in the United States, he explained.

"If initiative is a form of industry, the United States may feel highly complimented for having furnished many of the motives actuating the Soviet government in its efforts to speed up the industrial development of Russia," he said.

Mr. Stuart declared that the threatening situation of the Soviet major industrial problem confronting Russia today.

NEW HUMAN ART IS DEMANDED

New York, July 15 (AP)—The demand for a new art of human relationships to solve problems "artificially" was not lacking today by Robert D. Kohn, president of the American Institute of Architects.

We live in an age of "artificial contrasts," he said in contributing to a symposium of the engineering foundation on "Benefits from engineering progress."

"Part of the world is starving with the food lies elsewhere hoarding with a surplus food. The rest of the world is artificially starving because of a plethora of the thousand and one material blessings."

"We need achievements of science and engineering full of their effect because the human side of the world's problems has been neglected."

The new art, he said, will be emphasized on material science and will be more complex.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a satellite apartment and the best are attracted daily in the few residences.

GASOLINE TAX IS $1,580,052

According to figures compiled by State Tax Commissioner Henry F. Long, Massachusetts automobilists used during June $2,584,640 gallons of gasoline, which from the imposition of the 6-cent tax, will net the State $1,580,052 for highway purposes and assistance to cities and towns.

Commissioner Long said that during last month there were 1,236,875 gallons more used than in June of 1930.

All Blinded Things Move in 'Spirals', Science Shows

New York, July 15 (U.S.)—When blindfolded and blindfolded, a person's movements from every aerial pilot, move spirally when their guiding senses are not helping them to move straight.

Whether some being being moves in a right-handed or a left-handed spiral path, depends upon the nature of the cells of the body. This fact reveals the innermost construction of a particular type of life-material.

As says Dr. A. A. Schaeffer of the Biological Laboratories, Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, is a contribution to the magazine Science.

INJURED BOY WON'T 'SQUEAL'

Scorning an injury inflicted by a shot from an air rifle in the head, one of his chums, Joseph P. McInt, 11, of 89 East Canine St., South End, refused to tell doctors at Boston City Hospital who had the rifle, the cause involved in his left cheek.

The boy was playing in Rial Canton st., near Harrison st., with a group of his playmates, when a shot creased his cheek. Parents telephoned the Zin Detham st. police station.

MOUNTIES HAD FAILURES, TOO

Ottawa, Ont., July 15 (AP)—The world-famous tradition that the mounted police always "get their man" was an invention of American moving picture producers, according to Col. Courtenay Staines, retiring head of the Royal Canadian mounted police.

"We got them if we could," Col. Staines said. He added that the personnel of the police now was equal to that of its earlier days when it earned international fame for its exploits.

"SURE, I'M KEEPIN' KISSABLE"

WITH CLEAN, CELLOPHANE SEALED "OLD GOLDS"

Maybe he says it with a twinkle in his eye. But he means it just the same! No self-respecting husband wants to salute the wife and kiddies... with a breath like an ash-tray... heavy with the reek of stale tobacco.

Two things about OLD GOLDS make them odor-clean and fragrant. FIRST, they are PURE-TOBACCO... free of greasy, breath-tainting, teeth-staining, artificial flavorings. SECOND, they are never stale or dry. For they come to you factory-fresh... sealed in Cellophane.

Whether you're a stalwart steel-worker... or a dainty debutante... you'll like PURE-TOBACCO OLD GOLDS! Their clean, sun-ripened, Nature-flavored tobacco will make "Keep Kissable"... a real and pleasant fact for you.

MOTHER OF TWO IS MISSING

Can you help two children, one 4 months and the other 2 1/2 years old, who are crying for their mother?

She is Mrs. Shirley Fox, of 1115 Massachusetts St., who disappeared on May 27.

She is very ill, and needs her mother.

The Boston Evening American and Boston police have been asked to locate her.

She was last seen leaving her home to go to a theater May 27.

She is 6 ft. 7 in. tall, has dark brown wavy hair, and was wearing a light-colored dress, light shoes and stockings, and black coat and hat.

RAIDERS SET TO MOP UP BOSTON

Called as the biggest local drive since prohibition, is scheduled to go into effect this evening in Greater Boston.

Police officers are being detailed to enforce the law.

Franklin St. mystery arrested the 10 for going over the top.

Thirteen of the prohibition department's 335 new men were assigned to the Boston district and were given two weeks' schooling for the past they are expected to play.

They received instruction in civil and criminal law and the rights of citizens, being specifically warned against entering homes without warrants.

For weeks dry agents have been checking liquor dispensaries and hiding places in Roxbury, Charlestown, Dorchester, South Boston and the North, South and West Ends, and in some of the suburbs.

They are understood to have obtained evidence on which warrants were issued. Federal authorities announced the police were expected to cooperate.

NOIAN FREED IN ZONE LAW CASE

In a sealed verdict today Judge Williams in 8 efforts Superior Court James J. Nolan of Lambert Ave., Roxbury, was found not guilty of violating the zoning law.

Nolan was accused of permitting customers to park on his property.

The Commonwealth claimed that although Nolan owns the property he cannot park automobiles upon it indiscriminately. Nolan contends that the zoning law which went into effect in 1921 does not affect him.

QUIETUS PUT ON DISPUTE OVER POWER TO ACT

Validity of Signature on Extradition Papers Is Yet to Be Settled

Massachusetts had two "governors" today.

Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner acted as chief executive this morning, and "resigned" his post when Secretary of State Frederick W. Cook arrived at the State House.

Thus the constitutional question raised by Attorney Thomas D. Lavelle, to the effect that Warner could not act as Governor when the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor were both out of the State, and the Secretary of State was unavailable, was put on the shelf for the time being.

Lavelle, counsel for Marion Brainer, wanted in New Jersey, claimed that Warner's act of signing the extradition papers for his client was null and void, and Warner repudiated with the statement that the Constitution states that State officers act as Governor in the order of their rank when the Chief Executive and the Lieutenant-Governor are out of the State.

The question was brought up by Lavelle after Warner signed the extradition papers on Miss Brainer. Warner said Secretary Cook at his summer home in Plymouth, and was therefore not available, although still in the state.

Warner is expected to appear in federal court Monday, July 27, and explain his power to act as governor when the petition for a writ of habeas corpus to release Miss Brainer from Charles St. jail is heard.

The petition for the writ was filed today by Lavelle, and consists of three long typewritten sheets explaining that the woman is unlawfully detained at the jail.

A hearing was held Monday on the woman's extradition before

Healy Says He Has Champion

Chicago, July 15.—Twenty Grand will go to the post a favorite in the $7000 Arlington classic Saturday, but A. C. Bostwick thinks his 3-year-old star, Mate, will give the big boy all kinds of trouble, if not a beating.

Mate, conqueror of the Whitney colt in the Prankens and winner of the $5000 American Derby, reached Arlington Friday and he trainer, Jim Healy, said he had trained just for the world's richest open golf championship.

DeGlance Beats George to Keep Mat Title

The men got to their feet.

DeGlance stepped to close quarters,

and dropped George with an arm lock,

then scored with a spread kick.

George suffered considerable pain as the Frenchman spread his legs far apart and applied intense pressure.

Ed finally managed to pull him under the ropes and referee Smith compelled DeGlance to give up his punishing hold.

George worked his way to close quarters only to have DeGlance open up on him with a two-knife attack.

George stepped back and let fly with a tackle which dropped DeGlance.

For a second it looked as if Ed had the champion pinned, but DeGlance managed to wiggle out of the hold.

George kept pressing the issue and forced DeGlance through the ropes.

In the open work, Ed had the best of the milling, out at long range the champion laid the edge.

George once again opened fire and flying tackle DeGlance pulled back each time, and clamped both of his own hands, as George would come lunging through the air, he would rip his head back with a vicious attack.

Twice George got up and came within a few inches of his opponent, but he could not pin him.

DeGlance took advantage of the opening and pinned the challenger with a top body hold in 2m. 20s.

It was a wild, cheering crowd that greeted DeGlance as he fought his way to his dressing room. The Frenchman has shown himself a ring mat king.

Why Not Extend Economic Relief Here, Mr. Hoover?

President Hoover is his debt moratorium program has already dramatically deviated from the discarded do-nothing policy of laissez faire.

With German finances in a desperate condition, the President acted boldly and decisively.

Americans may disagree as to the wisdom of the generosity shown in the moratorium gesture, which calls upon the United States to make the chief sacrifice; but all recognize that the President's maneuver was designed to strike an effective blow at devastating depression overseas.

The six million jobless men and women in this country, who are trading the streets without hope, might well ask why Mr. Hoover, who shows such alert humanitarian concern for the plight of Europeans, should be so calm in the face of THE SUFFERING OF BLAMELESS VICTIMS OF THE DEPRESSION AT HOME.

If it is noble to extend a helping hand in the hour of need to Germans and other Europeans, why would it be ignoble to assist in providing work for the jobless in New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and the other great commonwealths of this republic?

For the aid of Europe, the President proposes that the Treasury borrow for one year $245,557,000 in debt payments, relieving debtor countries AT THE EXPENSE OF THE AMERICAN TAXPAYER, who will be called upon to meet the additional deficit thus arising in the budget.

If that is good business, why is President Hoover deaf to the plea for a vast Prosperity Loan for social reconstruction and the restoration of prosperity at home?

It has been suggested that the proceeds of a huge loan be spent for essential national public works, such as Mr. Hoover himself envisaged in his speech of acceptance at Palo Alto.

Incidentally, the interest charges—the cost of the operation to the taxpayers—for one year on the proposed $3,000,000,000 loan would be less than the amount of the debt payments postponed under the moratorium plan.

In the President victimized by the glimmer of distance? Is foreign relief more appealing than decisive action to provide work for the jobless at home, whose wives and children are suffering physical deterioration through prolonged malnutrition? President Hoover seems to be in the mood for action. Let him not forget that he is President of the UNITED STATES, with obligations to those who have thrown their destiny with this nation.

Farsightedness—the ability to sense needs abroad without recognizing them at home—would be a grievous defect.

To attain the full social value of the Federal program of vast public works it is essential to act quickly, in time to avert calamitous hardships at home during a third Winter of depression.

President Hoover has a fine opportunity to call Congress in extra session to authorize a vast Prosperity Loan, which will finance economic processes which will redeem the unemployed from the curse of idleness.

At this stage of the business cycle, after deflation has gone so far, it is economically safe to apply a courageous stimulant, which will release extensive consumer purchasing power and generate new impulses toward prosperity.

It is not a case of cities beginning at home. The American worker does not seek doles. He asks only the opportunity to exchange hard work for a weekly pay envelope.

Business at present is suffering primarily from stagnation in the construction industry, and the Government has an opportunity to step in and break the deadlock.

At present, trade in goods moving directly into consumption (such as apparel and shoes) is relatively much better than in permanent capital improvements. The deficiency in buying power comes in large measure from the slump in new construction.

In the first five months of 1931, the value of new contracts for commercial buildings declined 59 per cent over the corresponding months of 1930, including a decline in office building of 80 per cent. The recession in factory building was 47 per cent and for all non-residential buildings, except public buildings, 46 per cent. Public utility and allied construction declined almost 80 per cent. Residential building, already in a slump as early as 1928, fell only 13 per cent compared with the first five months of 1930.

These tangible figures help to make clear why scientific economists and informed social workers insist that the Government should step into the breach and take up the slack.

President Hoover has been looking to Europe, Latin America and elsewhere for opportunities to lend a helping hand.

The proposed Prosperity Loan would not only afford relief in an emergency, but it would also satisfy the demand of sound economists that public improvements be expanded when private industry is depressed in order to act as a stabilizing influence.

Only a strange mind, with artificial watertight compartments, can be closed to the acute suffering of his own people while making generous gestures to those overseas.

We Love Our Navy New England Pays for a Good One

More than 30,000 people, three times the population of Portsmouth, N. H., boarded Old Ironsides.

New England, with her background of history and maritime experience, wants a big navy, adequate for the defense of the United States in any emergency.

As she pays national taxes far in excess of her comparative population, she ought to have it.

Arthur Brisbane, during his recent visit, was impressed again by the sturdy dependability of the New England people and their shrewd common sense.

In their love for their country and their comprehension of its needs there are no different than the people elsewhere.

If the question of a substantial Navy were put to a vote, there would be an overwhelming majority that might surprise the national Administration and knock some of the silly pacifism out of it.

On the Atlantic -- By O.O. McIntyre Looking Backward at America

AT SEA, July 15.—Looking back at America from the detachment of mid-ocean, the fears that have recently gripped us all vanish. Distance loosens the ties that bind. I am again in the world. I am again in the world. I am again in the world.

A ship's bar in the evening offers a study of peace on the parade. There is one glossy gallant whose man seems to be put on like his monocle. He is a fool for handling, climbing and cutting. And on the ship that his name is parted in the middle with a hyphen.

The ship is pitching a little today and as the wind puts it, "many are sleeping late." Another way of saying they are slightly malcontent, made the promenade deck and saw only ahead of me. The ship is pitching a little today and as the wind puts it, "many are sleeping late."

One Argument for the New Ball
When'er I'd miss a four-foot putt
Or shank a mangle shot,
I blamed myself last summer, but
This summer I do not.

For when my shots desert the line
And into bunkers fall,
I know the blunder isn't mine—
The fault is in the ball.
Last year I shot some fearful rounds
But all that I could say
When drives of mine went out of bounds
Was: "This is not my day."
For scores that kept on mounting high
I'd no excuse at all.
But now I have an alibi,
I blame the larger ball.
The old ball may have had a fight
The new ball seems to lack,
But 'tis my golfing prior at night
They'll never bring it back.
For as I dub my way along
From springtime unto fall,
It's nice when drives are going wrong
To blame it on the ball.
I could not bring myself to blame
The caddy for my sin,
Nor give excuses old and lame
Because I'd failed to win.
But this year when I badly play,
As I my score recall,
It seems to soothe my soul to say,
"The trouble's with the ball."
